WANT THE LOUISIANA LAW.

Members of The House on Constitutional Amendment.

THE UNANIMOUS SENTIMENT

No White Men Will Be Disfranchised And No Democratic Pledge Will Be Broken.

Col. Olds has been interviewing the members of the house, says the News and Observer as to the suffrage amendments. Here are the interviews with some of the members:

Lee S. Overman said: "I think the Louisiana law the proper one if it is constitutional. There is no question of the passage of a law limiting the franchise."

P. D. Winston: "Sentiment is rapidly developing in favor of my bill, which is the Louisiana law with some modifications. I find that the drift of sentiment is that the elections should be in August instead of in May, as I proposed. I shall not oppose the change I find the basis of the Louisiana law warmly favored. My bill is entirely constitutional."

Poushee, of Durham: "Something very similar to the Louisiana law will be enacted. I regard that as a good law."

Walter E. Moore: "My people want to get the negro out in some way or other."

Ray, of Macon: "I prefer the Walton law, in Virginia. I think it will answer our purposes better. It is conservative and suits our people."

Locke Craig: "I think the Louisiana law the best we can adopt. I think the sentiment is in favor of it because it is honest and does not depend upon any party machinery."

Clyde Hoey, of Cleveland: "I am in favor of disfranchising all the negroes possible. I like the Louisiana law, but think we ought to put in a provision extending it so as to include great-grandsons of persons who voted prior to January 1, 1867, as this will extend it thirty years further. Of course we want a good election law at once until we can get the constitutional amendment ratified. We want to so fix matters that the constitutional amendment will be voted on at a different time from the general election."

Julian, of Rowan: "I favor any bill which will insure the government of the state by white men, and which will not disfranchise any white man."

Leatherwood: "As to disfranchisement. I do not want any white man disfranchised. I would not be willing to see that done. A just election law must be enacted, perpetuating white supremacy in North Carolina forever."

Leak, of Anson: "I favor any honest election law by which the white people will remain in control."

Holman, of Iredell, (the "father of the house"): "I like the Louisiana law."

McLean, of Harnett: "I like the Louisiana plan better than any yet suggested. I oppose any property qualification whatever for votes."

Heriot Clarkson: "I think an amendment to the constitution should be submitted to the people to restrict the suffrage. I am inclined to a law similar to the Louisiana law (which in substance allows all persons to vote who can read and write or who have three hundred dollars worth of property, or whose ancestor had a right to vote prior to January 1, 1867). I am inclined to the opinion that to submit an amendment to divide the school fund would not have the approbation of a Christian age. Our duty is to uplift humanity and educate our people to read and write, of any race Chinese, Indian or negro."

Gilliam, of Edgecombe: "I think the Louisiana law the best, in fact about the only way I see out of the difficulty. Almost any law will be satisfactory to the people of the east. The trouble will be with the west. I think Chairman Stubbs, of the committee, will appoint a sub-committee to draft an election law."

Allen, of Wayne: "My inclination is towards the Louisiana law, though I have not thoroughly studied this election law matter. We are compelled to keep our pledge not to disfranchise any white man. We gave our word as to this to the poor white men during the late campaign. These believed us. We must not deceive them."

Rountree, of New Hanover: "I have not as yet made up my mind as to the best thing to be done."

Council, of Watauga: "I think we ought to have a law to protect intelligent white men, whether educated or not, and that also we ought also to have a very small property qualification. This is a prime necessity in the West. Many men there are intelligent and are large land owners, but are uneducated, and are not very particular about educating their sons."

Justice: "I think an act ought to be passed now providing that at the elections an elector shall go to the polls alone and receive from an election officer the ticket which he puts in the box; the election officer not to be required to tell him how to mark his ticket. This will leave the election officer free to help white men and not help negroes. I am utterly opposed to disfranchising any white man, whatever his politics. I am in favor of the Louisiana constitutional amendment if after due consideration it is thought constitutional."

Col. Rankin's Funeral.

The funeral services over the remains of Col. W. S. Rankin, who passed away yesterday morning, were held in the First Presbyterian church this afternoon at 2 o'clock. The number present showed the high esteem in which the deceased was held. Dr. E. W. Smith conducted the services and in a beautiful talk, paid a worthy tribute to the beloved man.

At the conclusion of the services the remains of Col. Rankin were laid to rest in the cemetery near the church, by the side of his wife who preceded him to the better land six years.

A Bad Fall.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Louis Isley, a feeble gentleman about 65 years of age, received a painful injury by falling on the ice. He was carrying a bucket on his arm when he slipped and fell on it, painfully bruising his side. He was picked up and carried to his home near the race track. A physician was summoned and relieve, as far as possible the aged gentleman's suffering.

Now Ready.

The mammoth establishment of E. M. Caldwell & Bro. is now ready for 1899, with a tremendous stock—larger than ever—of all kinds of crockery, china and glass ware, lamp goods and novelties. The largest house south of New York. A handsome lot of goods just received today.

Greek Candy Maker.

A native of Athens is in the city looking for a suitable location to put up a candy making establishment. He has struck the right town—if he can get a place. It seems to us that it would be a good investment if somebody would put up a few small store buildings for rent.

Revisionists Are Pleased.

By Cable to the Telegram.
Paris, Jan. 13.—Revisionist organs today express satisfaction at yesterday's debate in the chamber of deputies and point out that the deputies are almost unanimous in severely criticizing the conduct of Beaurepaire. The anti-revisionists are sitting sterile and declare the order of the day solved nothing.

LATEST WASHINGTON NEWS.

Senator Pritchard Introduces a Bill Concerning Pensions.

JUDGE EWART IN WASHINGTON

For the Purpose of Looking After His Nomination, Which is Pending Before Senate Committee

Special to the Telegram.
Washington, Jan. 13.—It was announced at the war department yesterday afternoon that the leave of Capt. Joseph Willard has been extended. The Captain will also have the privilege of coming north, if he so desires, but it could not be ascertained as to whether he would pay a visit to his home in Virginia or not. The officials at the war department are of the opinion that he does conclude to visit this section that he will first come to Washington for a few days. The Captain and his wife are now at Tampa, Florida, and will visit several of the winter resorts of the state before coming north.

Mrs. E. C. Vedder, who is now in Florida with Captain and Mrs. Willard, is well known in this section. Her husband was formerly an officer in the Nineteenth regiment, United States volunteers. At the expiration of the leave of Capt. Willard he will rejoin his regiment in Cuba, and his wife accompanied by Mrs. Vedder will return north.

Senator Pritchard introduced a bill for the purpose of constraining the act of June 27th, 1890, granting pensions to soldiers and sailors who are incapacitated for the performance of manual labor and providing for pensions to widows, minor children, and dependent parents. The purpose of Senator Pritchard's bill is to construe the law as to include all persons who served for ninety days in the military or naval service of the United States during the late war of rebellion, and who have been honorably discharged therefrom, provided that it shall not apply to those who served in the first, second, third, fourth, fifth and sixth regiments of the United States volunteer infantry, who had a prior service in the Confederate army or navy, nor shall it apply to those who had a prior Confederate service, who did not enlist in the union service prior to Dec. 1st, 1864. The bill has been referred to the senate committee on pensions.

If the bill of Senator Pritchard is enacted into law it is estimated that it will place thousands of names of citizens of North Carolina on the pension rolls, who are not under the law as it now stands entitled to pensions.

Judge Ewart, of North Carolina, is in the city for the purpose of looking after his nomination, which is pending before the senate committee on the judiciary. The judge is busy making a canvass of the senate for the purpose of ascertaining how the senators stand on his nomination.

Judge Ewart was seen last night and he stated that he would remain in the city for some time. Provided the nomination is taken up at an early day he will probably remain in the city until it is acted upon. He says that he is confident from the result of the canvass he has already made that he will be confirmed by a good majority.

Senator Pritchard was seen at the capitol during the afternoon and he said that he is of the opinion the nomination will be acted upon without any great delay. Senator Pritchard states that if Ewart is not confirmed he would not leave the senate to take the judgeship.

MAY BE COURT-MARTIALED.

Gen. Eagan May Pay Dearly for His Insult to Miles.

By Wire to the Telegram.
Washington, Jan. 13.—Officials in army circles generally and many people in private walks accept it as a foregone conclusion that General Eagan will be court-martialed for his insult to General Miles before the board of war investigators.

Treaty May Be Defeated.

DENOUNCED AS A LIAR.

Eagan Pays His Respects to General Miles.

Washington, Jan. 12.—General Eagan, Commissary General Subaltern, appeared before the war investigating commission today and read a lengthy statement in which he repeatedly charged that the assertions of General Miles respecting operations of the commissary department of the war with Spain were lies.

Eagan referred particularly to Miles's testimony before the investigating commission that refrigerated beef furnished to troops was embalmed beef, and declared that this assertion was a scandalous libel. When he came to the assertion of Miles that canned meat was furnished for experiment, Eagan became excited, and with tears in his eyes, said:

"He lies. He lies in his throat, he lies in his heart, he lies in every hair of his head and every pore of his body he lies wilfully, deliberately, intentionally and maliciously."

"If his statement is true that this was furnished under 'pretense of an experiment,' then I should be drummed out of the army and incarcerated in a state prison. If his statement is false as I assert it to be, then he should be drummed out of the service and incarcerated in prison with other libelers."

"His statement is a scandalous libel reflecting upon the honor of every officer in the department who has contracted for or purchased this meat, and especially and particularly upon the commissary general—myself."

General Eagan also discussed an alleged interview in the New York Journal and the failure of Miles to deny it. He said:

"In this interview he lied again. He should be characterized as the most prodigious liar of the nineteenth century. His statements are filth and only such filth as would appear in the New York Journal. I beg pardon of the commission for any reference to this sheet; but we are dealing with filth matter. I would say that the proprietors of the New York Journal, New York World and New York Herald should be indicted and tried for treason for their conduct in this war."

In conclusion Eagan said:

"If I have used harsh language it is because of falsehoods and charges which, if true would call for my dismissal from the army in disgrace, and because it is necessary to call a spade a spade. I wish to say in conclusion that either Miles or I should be dismissed from the army."

EAGAN'S TESTIMONY

Returned to Him—General Wood Before Investigators.

By Wire to the Telegram.
Washington, Jan. 13.—The war investigators have decided to return to Commissary General Eagan an official copy of the testimony delivered by him before the commission yesterday. The letter of transmittal explains their action.

General Wood was the first witness before the board today. He said a great deal of the refrigerated beef was bad when sent to the troops at Santiago. It was moulded slightly but was unloaded in good condition. There was prejudice against the meat. Much of it was condemned not because it was bad when it arrived at Santiago, but because it could not be handled. It would leave the ship in the morning and reach the troops late in the evening. He said the campaign should be judged from results.

A LATER DESPATCH.

Washington, Jan. 13.—The war investigators have notified General Eagan that his vituperative language should have been omitted and returned his statement for revision.

Gen. Eagan Censured.

By Wire to the Telegram.
Washington, Jan. 13.—The war inquiry commission has passed a resolution censuring Gen. Eagan for the language used yesterday. The resolution will not be made public until late today.

Against Expansion.

By Wire to the Telegram.
Washington, Jan. 13.—Senator McLaurin spoke today for an hour in opposition to expansion. The executive session of the committee on rivers and harbors closed its hearing.

WAS MADE PUBLIC TODAY.

Twelfth Report Interstate Commerce Commission.

RATE CUTTING STILL PREVALENT

Large Concerns Only are Benefitted While the Smaller Ones are Crushed and Injured.

By Wire to the Telegram.
Washington, Jan. 13.—The twelfth annual report of the Interstate Commerce Commission was made public today. The commissioners maintain that the law in its present shape cannot be enforced. Rate cutting is still prevalent, but the general public is not benefited, as only the big shippers, men of great capital, are favored. The smaller shippers are injured and often ruined by these secret rates.

The report says the assertions that decisions forbade all railway agreements have little foundation. The real question is not whether carriers shall be granted rights under a contract which they never possessed. It certainly ought not to be unlawful for carriers to agree and confer for the purpose of doing what the law enjoins.

If it is understood that competition produces discrimination, one obvious way to prevent such discrimination is to restrict competition. It would probably be to the advantage of both the railways and public if the public had some voice or representation or organization of any kind in the matter under consideration.

Total income of railroads for the year, $397,000,000; surplus, $43,000,000; dividends, $66,000,000.
Men killed 1,700; injured, 27,000.

A MATTER OF JUSTICE.

In a personal letter to the editor a prominent colored educator of the state, among other things, writes: "It is admitted that the negroes of the state and of the entire south have grievously blundered in their political aspirations; still, as this was a mistake, which, under the conditions, any people would have made, it is earnestly to be hoped that the leading men of the dominant race will not, in the hour of their triumph, become so flushed with their victory as to forget or ignore the reasonable, just and humane considerations of a weak and dependent people."

In another place in the same letter he writes: "We love our state. It is the land of our birth. It has been endeared to us by the sufferings and sacrifices of our fathers and has become sacred to us by the ties of consanguinity which bind us here and the mute and moldering remains of our departed loved ones. It is no fault of ours that we have no other place that is home to us."

He is not opposed to the separate car idea, and takes little interest in the proposed restriction of suffrage; but the subject which brought out the above was the proposition to divide the school fund. Now, we are everlastingly opposed to negro domination; but this is a different matter. It is a matter which should not be controlled by political passion. It should not be influenced by sentiments of race pride. It is truly said the negroes are not here through any fault of theirs. They are here; and being here what is our duty to them from a humane standpoint? We do the negro a favor by eliminating him from politics; but do we not do him an injury by throwing stumbling blocks in the way of his educational and industrial advancement?

It would be grossly inconsistent to take Cuba, Porto Rico, Hawaii and the Philippines and attempt to enlighten and christianize them and force part our own population to remain in ignorance. Let us deal with the negro in a common sense manner and with fairness and justice.

EDUCATIONAL LEGISLATION.

There is no class of professional men who have greater or more perplexing battles to fight than those who have engaged in the great educational work of the state. They study hard to evolve schemes and plans for better and more effective means of educating the youth of the land. They are fighting the battles almost single-handed and alone. They have succeeded in inducing previous legislatures to take little interest in this great work. The public school system has been, at best, defective.

These men belong to a profession which should not be ignored. We mean by that they should be consulted with reference to legislation along educational lines, because no other profession is as well posted as to the needs and requirements of the people as the men who make these things a daily, practical study.

Before the present school law is changed or a new apportionment of the school fund is made, it would be well to submit the proposed changes to the scrutiny of the leading educators of the state—those directly interested in the public schools. It would, at least, be the conservative thing to go to the proper source for information and advice before making any experiments. It would simply be recognizing a profession which is entitled to the highest consideration at the hands of all men.

Notes of The Prowler

The Prowler looked very, very sad as he entered the office late last night. He was returning home from the show and stopped in to request a sheet of paper to write a letter to a friend. He scribbled a few lines, then looked up, with a far-off expression on his face, like a hypnotized man and said:

"I can't write tonight. The snow and ice which envelopes the earth and those merry and happy young people who are out yonder in the street rolling, tumbling, falling, slipping and sliding on the glassy surface of frozen water takes me out of the present and carries me away back to a similar scene when I was a lad and brings my old playmates, both boys and girls around me. I see all those bright and cheerful faces again. I sit again on a long board with a number of those dear playmates behind me and with a sharp stick in each hand start the exciting ride down through the old familiar orchard. The board strikes an old apple tree and piles us up around its root and I am at the bottom of the heap. I have lost my old hat, my coat is torn and my hands are bruised and bleeding; but I mind it not. I am happy in the pain of a lacerated limb and with a shout I start back up the hill with the board."

Herethe Prowler stopped talking and gazed for a long time at the ceiling. Then with a sigh continued:

"But the dream is over. Those jolly times are no longer a reality with me. A great many of my old playmates have left the banks of time and have reached the shores of eternity. The others have grown to man and womanhood, are husbands and wives, fathers and mothers and their children are now sliding on the snow and ice as I used to do. But, what's the use? They will keep on sliding. They frolic and romp over snow and ice and wist not that they are also sliding down the hill of time. I am getting pretty well along down the hillside now, and it makes me shiver to think how rapidly I am going. Faster and faster I will go and some day the rate of speed will become so great it will take my breath and that will end it all."

And the Prowler started home saying he would see us in the morning if he didn't fall on the ice and break his neck.

GROWING BETTER.

Santanelli's Performances at the Academy of Music.

Considering the cold weather and snow and sleet, making walking extremely difficult and in some places really dangerous, the large crowds who have each night made their way to the academy of music to see Santanelli, show that he is more than sustaining the reputation which preceded him here. The performance last night was, perhaps, the most entertaining of the engagement. A number of new subjects went upon the stage and were successfully hypnotized. The fun was fresh and fell fast and kept the audience in a continuous uproar of laughter.

Santanelli lectures this afternoon at Greensboro Female College at 4 o'clock. The matinee will begin tomorrow promptly at 3:30 p. m. Prices for the matinee have been placed at 10 and 25 cents at all parts of the house. There are only two more night performances and those who have not witnessed the wonders of hypnotism should see Santanelli, while many who have been every night will go again.

The Lees Last Night.

The performance by Lee's hypnotic subjects at the opera house last night was again witnessed and enjoyed by a large and intelligent audience. The program was entirely new and fully enjoyed.

The most laughable subject on the stage last night was Mr. Phipps, of the Greensboro Hardware Co. Mr. Lee armed him with a broom and sent him out in the audience to shoot birds. Mr. Phipps is a good hunter as was evidenced by his commands to the dogs and the number of birds he killed—or shot at.

The last and best thing on the program was the yacht race. The five subjects in the yacht became sea sick; finally the boat sprang a leak and they were swimming hard when Mr. Lee awakened them.

Mr. Lee is here for only three more performances—two nights and afternoon matinee—and those who fail to see him will always regret it. Every citizen of Greensboro should attend at least one of these performances as besides being exceedingly funny, they are very instructive.

Matinee at 2:30 tomorrow afternoon.

THE LEGISLATURE.

Part of Yesterday's Transactions Briefly Stated.

After reports of committees and introduction of bills in the Senate yesterday the calendar was taken up, and a bill authorizing the tax collector of Salem to collect taxes, a bill to validate the power of constables (applying to Hertford county), a bill to amend section 2168 of the Code, a bill to repeal chapter 277, laws of 1897, a bill to repeal 331, laws of 1897, and a bill for the better government of Hertford county, passed final reading.

A report from the elections committee deciding that Senator Franks, of the thirty-first district, should retain his seat, was adopted.

Upon motion Senators Osborne and Newsome were appointed to meet three members from the House, to form a committee to request the Governor to produce evidence as to the dismissal of the railroad commissioners, J. W. and S. Otto Wilson.

Senator Ward, by leave, introduced a bill to provide justices of the peace in Washington county, and Senator Justice, also by leave, offered a resolution that the expenses of Cannon, the contestee in the election case from the twenty-fourth district, be paid.

IN THE HOUSE.

After routine work and the introduction of a number of bills in the House the calendar was taken up. Bill to repeal chapter 500, acts 1897, so far as it applies to Wayne, passed, also bill to repeal the act of 1897, allowing Buncombe county to have an auditor, and bill to promote temperance in Dare by forbidding selling liquor to minors; and bill to prevent hunting on lands in Yadin without the consent of the owner. A bill to make the killing of live stock by railroads in Pitt county a misdemeanor was taken up. After a lengthy discussion the bill was finally referred to the judiciary committee.

By leave Mr. Hoey introduced a bill in regard to libel. It provides that any action against a newspaper for libel shall be brought in the county of publication and that in criminal action a retraction given equal prominence shall be sufficient, while if the action be civil damages can be agreed on. The bill also makes persons liable for misdemeanor who willfully give libelous matter to a newspaper. (This bill was drawn by H. A. London at the instance of the State Press Association.)

By leave Foushee introduced a bill to exempt roller flour mills from the provisions of section 1837 of the Code, fixing tolls.

A bill passed third reading allowing Louisville to issue improvement bonds. Mr. Foushee introduced a resolution appropriating $8,673.93 for salaries of penitentiary and $654 for freight bills.

A bill passed prohibiting hunting of birds on lands of another in Buncombe and Iredell, save by written consent. Smith, of Craven, introduced a resolution asking the committee on constitutional amendments to give the colored race a hearing.

The Speaker added Crumpler to the pension committee, James to committee on roads, and appointed the following committee on military affairs: Hart, chairman; Curtis, Davis, of Haywood, Bryan, of Granville, Troutman, Justice and Burrows.

At 1 o'clock the house adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow.

Mr. Elisha Berry, of this place, says he never had anything to do him so much good and give such quick relief from rheumatism as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. He was bothered with shooting pains from hip to knee until he used this liniment, which affords prompt relief.—B. F. Baker, druggist, St. Paris, Ohio. For sale by C. E. Holton.

Anti-Saloon Leagues.

Rev. J. W. Lee, the Irish evangelist, has recently been in Asheville and while there organized an anti-saloon league. This is the first one organized in the state but Mr. Lee hopes and proposes to organize a like association in every township in the state. He came down from Asheville this morning to organize a league in Salisbury and will do so before he leaves.—Salisbury Sun.

At their own request Brigadier Generals W. W. Gordon and W. C. Oates, of the volunteer army, have been honorably discharged from the military service.

The smallest things may exert the greatest influence. De Witt's Little Early Risers are unequalled for overcoming constipation and liver troubles. Small pill, best pill, safe pill. Howard Gardner.

The Association of American Photographers will hold its convention and exhibit at Coleman, on Lake Chautauqua, July 17 next.

When you cannot sleep for coughing take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It always gives prompt relief. It is most excellent for colds, too, as it aids expectoration, relieves the lungs and prevents any tendency toward pneumonia. For sale by C. E. Holton.

Abundantly Satisfied.

Messrs. J. A. and M. H. Holt, proprietors of Oak Ridge Institute, under date of yesterday write as follows:

"We have been too busy to report opening of spring term. We will not report the 'largest opening in the history of the school, nor any other of the stereotyped phrases. We will only say that the proprietors have reason to be abundantly satisfied; nearly every boarding house is full to overflowing. All the departments are full and each can take but the 'one more' so let him, that expects to come, come quickly."

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

Thos. F. Coble, of Burlington, is in the city.

Greensboro is sadly in need of improvement in its street cleaning system.

Representative Daniel H. McLean, of Harnett county, was in the city today.

Misses Lindley and Cook, of Pomona, are spending the day in the city.

T. L. Chisholm and little son, of Ramseur, were in the city this afternoon.

The slick-shod horse will welcome the melting of the sleet with a neigh of delight.

How about a society for the prevention of cruelty to animals for Greensboro?

Hudson's bill of fare for tomorrow includes everything needed to prepare an elegant meal.

Senator John N. Wilson came in from Raleigh at noon today. He will return to Raleigh tomorrow morning.

Mr. Blair, formerly of the Randolph Argus, was in the city this afternoon and called at the Telegram office.

The matinee at the Academy of Music to-morrow afternoon has been placed at 3:30 o'clock for the benefit of the colleges.

Miss Mary Husband, of Reidsville, who has been visiting the family of L. M. Clymer on Asheboro street, returned home at noon today.

Frank P. Morton, who went to Raleigh yesterday to attend a meeting of hotel men, was called back last night by the illness of his little daughter, Francis.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Herring and little son, Dewey, of Pilot Mountain, passed through at noon today going to Weldon to visit relatives. They will visit Richmond before returning home.

Tonight Santanelli will give a regular comedy at the Academy of Music. It will be the funniest performance yet. A regular cake walk and many other things will be put on that will make you laugh.

In spite of the cold, chilly atmosphere, caused by the sleet and snow, there will be a hot time in the old town tonight—the hypnotists are both here yet and doing business at their respective places.

L. M. Clymer, of the Acme Mill Works, yesterday shipped the first mill dresser, a product of the Acme. This is a machine to take the place of the old fashioned bolting cloth apparatus, and can be used with either roller or burr mills.

Yesterday afternoon a limited number of people witnessed a successful test in producing anesthesia by hypnotism at the office of Dr. Griffith. Mr. Chas. B. Westover, Mr. Lee's first assistant, hypnotized a young lady while the doctor extracted and replaced a tooth. The lady experienced no pain nor inconvenience whatever.

NOTES FROM HIGH POINT.

The Local News From Our Neighbor Briefly Told.

TELEGRAM BUREAU. }
 HIGH POINT, N. C. Jan. 13 }

A. B. Horney returned this morning from Raleigh where he has been attending the grand lodge of Masons.

Dr. W. S. Creasy, of Winston, will occupy the pulpit at the Methodist church here next Sunday.

Dr. R. D. Patterson, of Liberty, spent yesterday in the city with Dr. W. J. McAnally.

Nelson King came up from Asheboro this morning.

Miss Venitia Smith will move her stock of millinery goods next Monday to one of the new store rooms lately built by Ragan and Mills.

In spite of all the bad weather a large crowd attended the play given in the opera house last night by the Lillian Tucker Company.

The Lillian Tucker Company opened their three nights engagement here last night by introducing the grand play entitled "A Hero in Rags," which was well rendered. No doubt the weather stopped a few, but nevertheless they had a large audience, and every one present said it is the best troupe that has been here this season. Their second play entitled "Cast Adrift" will be given tonight, and tomorrow afternoon at the matinee "East Lynne" will be introduced.

John Burns, colored porter at the Bellevue hotel, got his hand mashed very badly this morning by letting a trunk fall on it.

W. T. Bundick, Virginia Temperance orator, will lecture in the Baptist church tonight at 7 o'clock.

James J. Joy, advance agent for Fields & Hansons minstrel, is in the city having bills posted for next Tuesday night.

Miss Clara Barbee fell on the ice yesterday morning while out in the yard at her home and was very badly bruised. She is eighty-six years old.

Malley Sechrest, one of the printers in the Daily Citizen office, is confined to his room on account of sickness.
